Acceptance

Please read the Terms and Conditions of Use carefully before accepting a White Label product from Sanquin Reagents. By accepting the purchase, you are confirming that you have read the Terms and Conditions of Use and that you agree to be bound by the Terms and Conditions of Use. The purchaser's general terms and conditions shall not apply. If the purchaser is not willing to accept the Terms and Conditions of Use, Sanquin is willing to accept return of the product for a full refund. By keeping or using the purchased materials, you agree to be bound by these Terms and Conditions of Use.

The Terms and Conditions of Use are subject to change without notice, therefore you should always read the Terms and Conditions of Use before accepting a purchase. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the Terms and Conditions of Use and any terms, rules, policies or guidelines posted elsewhere (and, to the extent applicable, all other terms and conditions made available to you (in any manner or form) in connection with any products or services purchased from Sanquin), this Terms and Conditions of Use shall be the governing terms.

Sanquin does not warrant that the resale or use of its products delivered will not infringe the claims of any patent, trademark or copyright covering the product itself, or its use in combination with other products, or in the operation of any process, and the purchase of the Sanquin product assumes all risks of patent, trademark or copyright infringement by reason of any such use, combination or operation.

Patents, Limited Use License, and other Licenses

Use of this product may be covered by one or more patents or patent applications owned by the Sanquin Blood Supply Foundation. Purchase of a White Label product from Sanquin is accompanied by a Limited Use License, a limited non-exclusive license for a purchaser to use the purchased product only for non-commercial laboratory research. A particular use is considered non-commercial only if the product is not used, directly or indirectly, for the identification, development or production of a therapeutic, diagnostic or other commercial product or service. A for-profit organization requires a license from Sanquin in order to use a product covered by a claim of these patents to identify, develop or make a therapeutic, diagnostic or other commercial product. And a not-for-profit organization requires a license if the product, the research or the result of screening or research is transferred to, or obtained for, or on behalf of a for-profit organization.

For information on obtaining a license, contact the Licensing Manager of Sanquin Reagents in Amsterdam, at reagents@sanquin.nl.

This license is ultimately governed by, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws of The Netherlands. Any and all disputes arising from these Terms of Use shall be exclusively submitted to and finally resolved by the competent courts of The Netherlands, to the jurisdiction of which courts you are to submit.
